WHY SO FEW SUCCEED. Life is a continued battle, in which defeat is suffered more often than victory is won .-Along its flinty path the foot-prints of disaster are every where seen, and by the wayside are thickly strewed the graves of the tallen. Why is it that so few succeed? Why is the hope with which youth set out so often desolated, and the goal of ambition so rarely reached? The strife is too often commenced without preparation for the struggle. The young, impulsive, and ardent think they have but to reach forth their hand to pluck the fruit, that, like the apples of the Hesperides, is only to be gained after the highest endurance and the most patient perseverance. Seldom does genius give the tongue of flame that secures distinction almost without effort. Toilsome study and persistent investigation and patient experimentare the only modes of realizing a power to create, or even to recombine, so as to subdue new elements to human use --Physical as well as mental training is necessary for the accomplishment of life-victories. But when the intellect is well cultivated, the bodily energies are often uncuitivated. The mind, like friction upon a machine not lubricated, wears out the mechanism of the body, and its growing weakness and disorder nullify the power it envelopes. How often a blanched cheek, emaciated limbs, and feeble muscles mark the successful student, who drops into the grave when he is about to reach the goal of his aspirations! We of America have much to learn on this point .--A system of intellectual forcing culture, a butit of putting boys to the business of men, has produced a species of precocity which however much it may awaken astonishment at the wonderful developments, will leave-nay, has left-manifold evils. At the rate we are now progressing, the time is not far distant when such a thing as boys will be entirely unknown. Now the lads of ten wear the manners of maturity, and the girls of a seer age are often women in all but physical development. To the want of physical culture there is also to be added a neglect of

We met a man yesterday who was on the top round of the ladder of anger-in fact about the maddest man we have seen for six weeks. He is a married man, and like most married men bas relatives "on his wife's side," residing in the country. The relatives aforesaid bave visited our bero several times in the city, on which occasions he has taken very particular pains to show them aroundtake them to the theatres, museum, and exbibit to their rustic wondering vision, the entire elephant in all his magnificent propotions-have their daguerotypes taken &c., &c. For several years there has been a standing invitation on the part of our friend's relatives to "bring his family up" and stay a month or such a matter in the rural districts. Well, consented, and accordingly sent his wife and little ones to the sociable bosoms of their kin, where they stayed three w eks. Yesterday, a bill was presented to our bero-a bill amounting to just $37,50 for his family's board in the country during those three weeks .- We shall not attempt to describe the boiling, fuming, raging and chafing, storming anger of the indignant husband and father. He was moody, fretful savage and infuriate by turn. Ite was miffed incensed, inflamed, nettled, provoked, ruffled, irritated, resentful. His gall, ire, choler, rassion, spleen, burst like a volcano from his lips. Petulance, acerbity and double distilled wrath and rage exploded on his fuming tongue; and as his exasperated language hissed forth bitter invectives on the "contemptible avarice and miserly meaness of some peo ple," his fierceness of countenance looked like some terrible tornado about to tear up the world by the roots. Oh, he was mad--as

Mr. Nathapiel Willis publishes in the Boston Recorder his experience of a half century in newspaper life. Mr. Willis is now in his 79th year. He concludes his chapter of experiences with the following bit of counsel to the new race of journalists: "Young men who aspire to the press as a profession, let an old man advise you to depend on industry, integrity, perseverance, self-reliance, and the blessing of God, rather than the promises of men. By these I have succeeded, with the advantage of an education which only a printing office affords. I have paid my debts, and by prudence, and by gathering up the fragments, I have a competence which will carry me to the edge of the Jordan."

CAPITAL OVER $250,000, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.
The charter of this Company offers more to vorable advantages to the farmer and other than any other company chartered in the State by insuring with or without a premium noteof the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay: or by becoming a member, and giving small premium note, the insured saves near one half of the amount charged by Stock Comp nies, when insuring from year to year. This the advantage resulting from the combination of THE CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE This company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by are, on the 16th of March, 1854, since which time over five thos. sand seven hundred persons have insured and be come members of the Company, and over tany thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having trebled our business during the par-year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe that by prudence caution and a rigid system of economy, the will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety, not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested artistrators of the County where such loss happened to be my tually chosen by the insured and the Company
